What is an Environmental Ecosystems?

The surroundings or conditions in which a person, animal, or plant lives or operates.

An ecosystem is the interaction of living and nonliving things within an area

Biomes

A biome is a geographical area that has a particular climate and sustains a specific community of plants and animals.

- The main factors affecting the distribution of biomes is temperature and rainfall
- These factors will vary according to latitude and longitude, as well as altitude and proximity to the ocean
